Montreal, December 27, 2007 – A magical end of year on Place Jacques-Cartier. On the evening of December 31st, Montreal will celebrate the arrival of the New Year! Residents and tourists, families and friends, you are all invited to join us and take part to the greatest Holiday party in town: the New Year's Eve Grand Bal, which will begin at 9 p.m., within the context of the Old Montreal's Extravaganza.

For the closure of the 4th edition of the Old Montreal's Extravaganza, we are really looking forward to impress you. No matter the weather, come and dance to the beats of our two invited bands. The Pub Saint-Paul All Stars Band will start the party with well known rock 'n' roll songs and will leave its place to the proud ambassadors of the event at 10:30 p.m. Belzébuth, a folk music band, will warm up the atmosphere until the usual countdown of the last moments of 2007 in order to welcome the New Year, under a shower of majestic fireworks.

The New Year's Eve Grand Bal, which has been a major event for eight years now, is still growing in popularity. During its 7th edition in 2006, there was more than 35 000 people who have swarmed on the Place Jacques-Cartier and the neighbouring streets in order to celebrate the arrival of the New Year. The New Year's Eve Grand Bal is a free activity for everyone and welcomes visitors from everywhere in Quebec, Canada and other places around the world, such as the United States, Europe and Australia.
